THE CLASSIFICATION OF RUTHERGLEN MUSCAT & TOPAQUES

RUTHERGLEN

The foundation of the style: displaying fresh fruit aromas, rich fruit on the palate and great length of flavour.

Campbells average age 6-8 years

CLASSIC

Greater levels of richness and complexity; exhibiting the beginnings of mature wood characters produced from extended maturation in oak.

GRAND

A higher plane of character with greater intensity and mouth-filling depth of flavour, complexity and viscosity which imparts layers of texture and flavour.

Campbells average age 25-30 years

RARE

The pinnacle of the styles, the richest and most complete wines - displaying deep colour, intense fruit and mature oak characters, rich viscous texture and extraordinary depth of mellowed complex flavours.

Campbells average age in excess of 50 years
